State names 50 companies to watch

Fifty companies, including 18 that are based in Indianapolis, have earned a place in Indiana's second annual field of companies to watch.

The privately held businesses range from employee benefits specialist Nyhart Inc. to aptly named My Health Care Manager, LLC to SynCare, LLC, which concentrates on disease and case management.

The list of winners was compiled -- out of more than 500 nominations -- by Indiana Economic Development Corp., its small business development center network, Purdue University and the Edward Lowe Foundation.

The 50 chosen companies project to have combined revenues in excess of $671 million and create more than 560 new jobs this year.

The revenue projections represent an increase of more than $200 million from 2008.

Commerce Secretary Mitch Roob called these companies the "foundation of the Indiana economy."

Nearly 3,800 mid-sized companies with between $5 million and $100 million in annual sales operate in Indiana, according to a 2008 Indiana Chamber of Commerce Foundation study.

Those companies employed more than 386,000 workers and produced more than $55 billion in annual sales.
